

The 100-Word Bible

God speaks, a new earth is born.
The world is spoilt and God floods it clean.
The promise is shrouded in slavery
but found again in freedom.
Judges judge without justice
and kings rule without power.
Meanwhile prophets keep the hope alive,
singing of a better day to come.

The promised child is born and the better day comes.
They call him Jesus, in hopes or expectation.
Rejected by his own earth, he dies a cruel death,
and undergoes a miraculous resurrection.
Empowered by him, new prophets sing a new song.
Hope lingers now on a new horizon.
God speaks...
