The Poppy Factory in Richmond is known around the world as the place where the famous red poppies are made and 2022 marks its centenary year. They are currently offering a selection of Discovery Mornings which are 90 minutes long and led by expert hosts, where we will be taken around the visitor centre and discover their 100-year-old story, including personal veteran stories and their part in Remembrance.

To Book: To join us on Monday 25 July, please book your own individual tickets online via the link below and select the 11am slot. It is advisable that you book as soon as possible as availability is limited. <https://www.poppyfactory.org/event/>. Please also 'Accept' the TBC email invitation (sent round on 13 July 2022) if you are planning to come.

Getting there: The Poppy Factory is a 15-minute walk from Richmond train station. You can also catch the 65 bus from Richmond station to Compass Hill stop which is outside the visitor centre. The entrance is a sharp turn on Petersham Road, next to a colourful poppy pedestrian crossing and just a few hundred yards from Richmond Bridge. Pay and display car parking is available at The Old Deer Park, Richmond TW9 2RA, around 15 minutes' walk away and accessible from the A316.
